

THE WORLD OF JOHN EVANS INTERNATIONAL ENTERTAINER

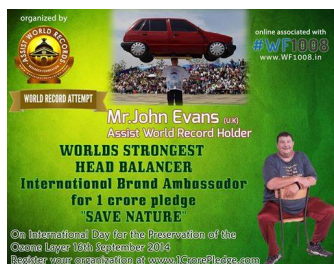

Hello Show Organizer,

My name is John Evans; I am the "headbalancing" strongman, who has delivered his own brand of unique entertainment over the past two decades. Incredibly, I balance immensely heavy objects, including the legendary Mini Cooper Car, on my head! I feature heavily in the Guinness Book of World Records, having 33 Guinness World Records and 44 Record Holder Republic World Records. All these world records were / are created by headbalancing the objects for over 10 seconds. I am also a Judge for Record Holder Republic when new records are being attempted.

I have performed my amazing headbalancing act around the world to massive audiences and on top TV shows. I have made two appearances on The Tonight Show with Jay Leno, one of which was the celebration of the show's 40th anniversary - I was chosen as the best act in the world. When you are looking for acts to appear at your event, consider this - using me with my world records will help secure you a feature article in the local press - publicity worth thousands of pounds.

If you need more information, visit www.headbalancer.com and look at the photos, videos, media and information about my performances around the world on the pictures above:
